Hobbies: Now, let me talk about my interests or hobbies. I would like to mention some of my hobbies. First of all, I like to travel a lot. Like visiting different places. I love going to beach and travelling to place where I can capture new memories. Next, I love dancing. Since I was a kid, I really loved to dance. It's one way of expressing my emotions and revealing all the stress. And also, I loved watching movies. I like watching documentary and action movies, I love working-out (yoga and zumba) and photography. I love reading books and sharing ideas to others. I also like road trip and climbing mountains.

My name is Jean Loury E. Relator, 27 years old. I live in Gairan, Bogo City, Cebu Philippines 6010. Before I graduated, I worked as a part-time home-based tutorial at Sphere Wisdom Academy for almost 3 years. Right after that, 2015 I worked as a customer service advisor at Samsung Service Center. Luckily, with those experiences I was able to save money and pursue my college career. Now, I am happy and excited to find a job where I could render my service at the best of my abilities. I have been teaching English online for more than 3 years now. I love teaching kids that's why I took up an Education course. It's really amazing how teacher touches the lives of students. It's a fulfillment on my part when I see my students learn at the same time, they were having fun. My goal in my class is to make a difference and history in which they will learn and grow holistically. I work with my students to guide them to be better English readers and writers and what is important is that the student both learn something new by the end of each session.
