

JILIAN S. CURARATON

Country: Philippines

School: Saint Louise de Marillac College of Bogo

Employment Period: May 2017–June 2020

Hobbies:

I love singing, dancing, writing, watching K-dramas and different action movies. Also, reading books especially news since I'm an article writer and the ability to construct poems creatively both spoken and written.

My name is Jilian S. Curaraton, 21 years old, from Medellin, Cebu City Philippines. I have been teaching English online for three years. Teaching is my passion; I really love to teach specially kids and adults. I like learning different cultures that's why I am also interested in teaching students with different nationalities. As an English teacher made me acquire the ability to challenge and motivate the students in understanding the importance of English. My willingness and enthusiasm will surely help them in valuing and practicing English. I'll find a way to get more interested in what I am teaching and to make things more interesting for them. It requires a little more work, a little more imagination, and maybe even a little acting ability.

They said, "Teaching can't make you rich". But according to me, "Maybe teaching can't rich financially but I could rich those hearts that I've been touch because teaching is not always from the book, it is from the heart.
